

Next Boss Jock For A Day Audition Pro Tips!

Here's some Pro Tips for recording a fabulous audition to become our Next Boss Jock For A Day!

Be Yourself, only more entertaining! Many of us have no idea how unanimated we are when we talk to people. Don't overdo being yourself, but do add a little sparkle without sounding fake!

Don't talk in a "radio voice." That is so 1952! Everybody on the radio today just uses their regular voice, as it should be.

Enunciate your words. Slurring your words and phrases can be difficult to listen to. Make sure you are speaking clearly.

Be friendly. Smile when you talk on the radio, your listener will feel it.

Tell stories. Most of communication is listening to stories. Tell a story with your voice and inflections. Be excited when it's appropriate, and remember be heartfelt too.

Try not to pop your "p"s. The natural sound we make when forming words that begin with "plosive" consonants such as "P" and "B" is to push those sounds with air, which makes a weird noise across a microphone and pops. Practice saying these sounds softer, or by slightly turning your mouth away from the microphone

If you don't like the first one, try again, and again. No one got it right the first time, so be prepared to cutting a few re-takes.
